

Canister Lab

You may only mass the three containers in front of you. You may talk to any other group

Using your data, It is your job to find to find the number of objects inside the canister, the mass of the objects inside the canister and the mass of the canister. You must also must get a mathematical model (equation) to predict the number of objects in any container